

Hallowish

Proudly presented by

Hi Neighbour,

I'm reaching out because I'm taking part in Make-A-Wish Australia's Hallowish this October, and I'd love for you to be involved.

It's not just about Halloween decorations or costumes, it's about bringing our street together to do something fun, meaningful, and truly impactful for critically ill children.

Every dollar raised helps fund life-changing wish experiences for kids facing critical illnesses, giving them hope, joy, and inspiration during incredibly tough times.

One of those children is Braxtyn.

Brax's wish to help Batman catch the bad guys was more than an unforgettable adventure. Living with Hunter syndrome, Brax stepped into the role of superhero sidekick with his brother Dre by his side, following clues, recovering stolen artwork and helping save the day. It was a wish that gave Brax confidence, joy and a story where he was the hero, showing just how powerful a wish can be for a child and their family.

"I wish to go on an adventure with Batman and catch the bad guys"

Braxton, 10, Hunter syndrome

With the support of his family and the wish community, Brax's journey became a powerful reminder of what imagination, courage, and hope can do for a child going through something unimaginably hard. His wish experience gave him strength and joy during treatment — moments of happiness that his family will carry forever.

Stories like Brax's are why Hallowish exists!

This year, our street has the chance to create something just as powerful together:

If we raise $1,500, we unlock the Bronze Cauldron. This means we receive a special Hallowish reward pack, featuring exclusive recognition for our incredible efforts.

At $5,000, we unlock the Candy Coven (plus a barrel of Chupa Chups to share with the street!)

At $15,000, we unlock the ultimate Golden Pumpkin, including a special visit from Hyundai, Chupa Chups and the Make-A-Wish Team, with extra Halloween surprises for everyone involved*

All it takes is a few neighbours getting involved to turn this into something unforgettable, not just for our street, but for children like Brax who are counting on support from communities like ours.

If you'd like to join in by decorating your home let me know and I'll add you to the fundraising page or if you'd prefer to donate, you can do it here:

Even the smallest contribution helps, and together, we can turn our street into something truly magical this Halloween.

Thanks so much for being part of it.
